

News Release

CONTACT:
Michael Hofstein, EuroPacific Films
+1.323.702.8502

(LITTLE) RED RIDING HOOD SELECTED FOR THE MOVING PICTURES FESTIVAL

Paris, France (June 25, 2016) – EuroPacific Films’ short film (Little) Red Riding Hood was recently included in the 41st official selection and for the second time this year in Antwerp, Belgium.

(Little) Red Riding Hood is the first episode of a 12-episode TV series, and stars Yannick Derrien and Lena Marteens. The film was produced by Stephane Guenin, Daniel Jenny and Sir Michael Hofstein for EuroPacific Films, and was directed by Stephane Guenin.

More information on (Little) Red Riding Hood can be found on the official website at europacificfilms.com/little-red-riding-hood

About Moving Pictures Festival

A brand new concept in the short film genre and how winners are chosen, the Moving Pictures Festival focuses on the audience where they are the jury. During the festival, the audience chooses two winners: one national (Belgium) and one International. The festival is held every three months and has live screenings at “De Schuur” (at café Bar-Choc) in Kalmthout (Nieuwmoer), Belgium.

About EuroPacific Films

EuroPacific Films is a production company focused on creating international features and short films, and one of the founders of le Cinéma Résistant, a growing movement of filmmakers striving to make commercially successful artistic movies.

For more information on L’Engagement 1.0 and EuroPacific Films, visit www.europacificfilms.com or call +1.323.702.8502.

###